

Attendee List Scam

ASME will never ask you to purchase our attendee list through a third party. It has come to our attention that there are emails circulating regarding purchasing an attendee list for this year's ASME Turbo Expo—this is a SCAM and is in no way affiliated with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME). They do not have any attendee information.

If you receive an email saying they have our attendee list, please disregard it and delete it immediately.

We apologize for any inconvenience. Unfortunately, conferences such as the AASME Turbo Expo can be a target for scam messages. If you receive any suspicious emails or calls, please report them to exhibits@asme.org. Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

Thank you,
ASME Show Management

Beware Pirate Housing!

We would like to make you aware of a situation that has been brought to our attention. There are companies using various names who have been contacting exhibitors to "assist" with hotel reservations. They sometimes disguise themselves as the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) Housing Bureau or claim to represent the conference hotel. They may claim they can get better rates, that rooms are limited, or use other sales pitch methods. They are NOT the official housing bureau and are NOT affiliated with the ASME in any way.

All hotel reservations should be made via the conference headquarters hotel reservations link at <https://event.asme.org/Turbo-Expo/Venue-Travel/Hotel-Accommodations>. Reservations made by unaffiliated organizations may appear to have lower rates, however they may be illegitimate, not have the rooms to sell, have unreasonable cancellation or change penalties, or be completely non-refundable.
