What's Inside The Kerassentials Formula?

Here is an overview of some of the many core ingredients and essential oils in Kerassentials that make it work and help provide healthy nails and hair:

Lemongrass Oil

Lemongrass oil is an essential oil derived from the leaves and stems of the lemongrass plant, which is native to India.

When applied topically to the scalp, lemongrass oil can help promote hair growth by stimulating blood circulation in the scalp. This increased circulation helps nourish the hair follicles with oxygen and nutrients necessary for healthy hair growth. Additionally, lemongrass oil's anti-inflammatory properties can help reduce scalp inflammation caused by dandruff or other skin conditions that can inhibit healthy hair growth.

LIMITED OFFER: Visit KERASSENTIALS Official Site And

Lemongrass oil also has antifungal properties, which can help reduce fungal infections on the scalp that may be causing hair loss or thinning. Furthermore, it can help balance sebum production on the scalp, which helps keep your hair hydrated and prevents dryness or breakage of your strands.

Tea Tree Oil

Tea tree oil is known to accelerate the growth of healthy nails by promoting blood circulation in the cuticles.

One of the most common problems people have with their nails is fungal infections, as they often pick up contaminants while working or doing everyday tasks. Tea tree oil contains powerful antifungal ingredients that help keep your nails looking clean and healthy, especially if used regularly.

It also keeps hair follicles healthy. Hair follicles are the foundation of healthy hair growth and tea tree oil helps keep them functioning optimally. It helps keep the scalp clean by removing bacteria and dead cells that clog up the root area, which allows more oxygen to reach each strand. This means more nutrients reach your hair follicle, resulting in stronger and healthier locks overall!

Lavender Oil

Lavender oil is an essential oil derived from the lavender plant native to the Mediterranean region. It has a sweet, floral aroma and is known for its calming and relaxing effects. Lavender oil has been used for centuries in aromatherapy and traditional medicine to treat a variety of ailments, including skin irritation, insomnia, anxiety, depression and headaches.

Regarding hair health, lavender oil can be used as a natural remedy to promote hair growth. The antiseptic properties of lavender oil help reduce inflammation on the scalp which can lead to hair loss. Additionally, its antibacterial properties help fight off bacteria that can cause dandruff or other scalp conditions that can lead to hair loss. Lavender oil also helps stimulate blood circulation in the scalp, which helps promote healthy hair growth.

Lavender oil can also be used as a natural conditioner for your hair. Its moisturizing properties help keep your scalp hydrated and nourished, while its antifungal properties help protect against fungal infections like ringworm or athlete's foot. Additionally, lavender oil helps balance out sebum production on the scalp, which keeps your hair looking shiny and healthy.

Almond Oil

LIMITED OFFER: Visit KERASSENTIALS Official Site And Get Amazing Price Today !!!

Almond oil is great for keeping your hair hydrated as it's rich in emollients like oleic acid, which helps repair damaged strands while providing long-lasting moisture. Additionally, it helps prevent split ends by locking in moisture within the follicle wall allowing the natural oils produced by the scalp to seep through more effectively.

Almond oil can also strengthen nails by moisturizing the cuticles, providing hydration and protection against breakages. This is due to its fatty acid content, which helps to lubricate the cuticles, so they stay supple, reducing brittleness in your nails.

Almond oil is also rich in vitamins A, E, D, magnesium, zinc and iron, which boosts overall nail health while helping to keep them gorgeous looking all year round.

Aloe Vera

Aloe vera is a great anti-dandruff agent because it contains compounds that help moisturize the scalp, reducing dryness. This reduces excess oiliness, one of the main causes of dandruff. Applying this natural product to your scalp regularly will help keep your scalp healthy, eliminating dandruff in the process.

LIMITED OFFER: Visit KERASSENTIALS Official Site And Get Amazing Price Today !!!

One benefit of using aloe vera on your hair is its ability to moisturize the hair shafts and follicles. Aloe vera can penetrate deep into the scalp to nourish your hair while sealing in moisture, preventing frizzy hair that can occur when there's too little hydration.

Many people also turn to aloe vera for nail health because its natural compounds are able to restore weakened and damaged nails by helping repair them from within.

Vitamin E

Vitamin E helps improve the strength of our nails and hair by increasing cell regeneration rates. This means that cells will be removed from our bodies more quickly, which helps to replace weak or damaged cells with healthier ones at a faster rate.

In addition to increasing cell regeneration, Vitamin E has antioxidant properties that fight against free radicals. Free radicals can damage both the inner layers of the skin as well as externally with thinning of the hair or brittle nails.

LIMITED OFFER: Visit KERASSENTIALS Official Site And Get Amazing Price Today !!!

Antioxidants such as vitamin E help combat the damaging effects of these powerful agents by neutralizing those responsible for oxidation-related damage, thus helping promote healthy nails and luscious locks.

Along with Vitamin E, some other important micronutrients that are important in promoting nail and hair health are zinc, selenium, biotin, omega-3 fatty acids, iron and magnesium. These play a key role in strengthening your body's natural defenses against free radical damage by providing essential nutritional support for skin functions such as balancing oil production within follicles.

Flaxseed Oil

Flaxseed oil is a natural oil derived from the seeds of the flax plant. It is rich in essential fatty acids, including omega-3 and omega-6, which are important for healthy hair growth. The oil also contains lignans, which are compounds that have antioxidant properties and can help protect against damage caused by free radicals.

Flaxseed oil has been used for centuries to promote healthy hair growth and prevent nail fungus.

LIMITED OFFER: Visit KERASSENTIALS Official Site And Get Amazing Price Today !!!

When applied topically, flaxseed oil helps to nourish the scalp and hair follicles, promoting healthy hair growth. It also helps to reduce inflammation of the scalp, which can lead to dandruff and other scalp conditions that can interfere with hair growth.

This product helps prevent skin aging by providing a lustrous shine with the help of natural ingredients. Kerassentials can minimize skin infections so you can grow healthy nails. It can protect the skin from fungal infections.

Reduces Inflammation

According to the official website of Kerassentials, it can target the root cause of nail fungus and reduce the inflammation that comes with it. While treating toenail fungus, over-the-counter medications often induce side effects like excessive inflammation. But, with the powerful combination of ingredients like lavender oil and tea tree essential oil, you don't get that.

This natural product has potent anti-inflammatory properties that help treat toenail fungus and promote nail health efficiently. It can preserve your nail keratin so that you stay away from developing nail fungus.

Boosts Skin Immunity

Kerassentials uses a doctor-formulated blend to help you in treating nail fungus and soothe irritated skin. This toenail fungus oil works by targeting the root cause of toenail fungus that compromises the skin's immunity.

Kerassentials is a powerful product that delivers nutrients to your nails and skin from ingredients like lavender, clove bud, organic flaxseed, tea tree, and lemongrass oils. With the help of essential vitamins and minerals, you can strengthen your skin's immunity.

What Is The Scientific Research Behind The Ingredients In Kerassentials?

Several studies have explored how tea tree oil, a core component in Kerassentials, affects nails. One particular study conducted over an 8-week period showed that those who applied a cream containing 2% of tea tree oil four times per day experienced an improvement in brittle nails compared to their counterparts who had only used a placebo cream without any active ingredients like tea tree oil.

Another more recent study showed similar results on how tea tree oil helps reduce signs of fungal development around the cuticles due to its antifungal properties. It's also important to note that tea tree is known to moisturize skin around the nails; this property increases its ability to keep your nails healthy by locking in moisture, reducing dryness and brittleness associated with dehydration.

A study conducted at Chiang Mai University in Thailand monitored the effects of lavender oil, another ingredient in the formula, on 30 male volunteers who had fungal infections on their nails over a period of four weeks.

Researchers applied lavender oil directly to the affected nails twice a day and monitored changes both externally (changes in size, shape and texture) and internally (measured rate of fungal growth inhibition).

The results showed that not only was there a significant improvement to the physical appearance of the nail (in 79% of cases) but also strongly improved functional capacity, with all participants showing some degree of antifungal inhibition within four weeks.

A study showed that applying a 30% solution of lemongrass oil was just as effective at treating fungal infections as applying clotrimazole cream—a common antifungal treatment option prescribed by physicians.

Another study from 2011 evaluated the effectiveness of 10% undecylenic acid in treating athletes' feet. The results showed that, compared to the placebo cream, undecylenic acid was superior in both improving clinical signs and total symptom scores after 30 days of use. In addition, patients who used undecylenic acid reported greater satisfaction with results than those using placebo cream.

These results indicate that undecylenic acid can be an effective treatment option for an athlete's foot when used according to instructions given by a medical professional.

In a study from 2010, researchers studied the effects of clove oil, one of the ingredients in Kerassentials, on nails and found that there was indeed an improvement in nail plate strength when measured after 28 days of application. The study also noted that overall hydration levels increased with the application of clove oil, meaning increased softness and flexibility.

Is Kerassentials Oil Safe For Everyday Use?

The Kerassentials nail fungus eliminator is packed with nutrients from aloe vera leaf extract, clove bud oil, tea tree oil, almond oil, lavender oil, almond oil, vitamin E, organic flaxseed oil, lemongrass oil and other essential oils. These ingredients work in synergy with each other to provide you with multiple health benefits.

The official website of Kerassentials states that the formula of Kerassentials is non-GMO, chemical-free and stimulant-free. All the Kerassentials ingredients are free from impurities as they are derived from trusted natural sources.

Since the product uses 100% natural ingredients, it is considered completely safe for everyday application, even on sensitive skin. The strong antibacterial properties can protect your nail health against nail fungus. This product can also nourish your skin and nails.

However, if you face recurrent fungal infections, it can worsen the growth of your toenail fungus. In this case, you must seek immediate medical attention.

How To Apply Kerassentials Oil On Skin And Nails?

You don't have to prepare anything on your own while using Kerassentials. However, you need to set some time aside to apply it.

Every bottle of Kerassentials comes with an enclosed brush applicator. With the help of this brush, you can apply the oil to your skin and nails. It also contains a cotton swab that you need to use to push the oil into your nails to enhance nail health and do away with nail fungus.

You can also keep an emery board handy to gently file the surface of the nails for enhanced absorption of the oil. Make sure not to file the nail surface abrasively, as it can worsen the nail fungus.

According to the official website of Kerassentials, you need to use this oil four times a day to treat fungal infections and prevent toenail fungus successfully.

If you are not comfortable applying even the best natural remedies, you can apply lavender essential oil on your sensitive skin and expect great results.
