

Invite for ASME MED Centennial Celebrations – seeking your sponsorship

We would like to invite you to join us in celebrating 100 years since the formation of Manufacturing Engineering Division (MED) of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME).

Over the past 100 years, the MED community has made great strides to promote, advance, and support manufacturing through industrial and academic work and collaborations, research and development projects and publications, standards and education materials, training, and many other contributions.

This celebration comes at one of the most exciting times for manufacturing. The advances in digitalization, automation and connectivity are transforming Manufacturing into a highly computerized and complex ecosystem, with opportunities for breakthroughs and growth at an unprecedented rate. MED is proud to be one of the strongest contributors to concepts, ideas, and developments that drive this new industrial revolution.

Please consider being a supporter of our celebrations. You will be recognized as one of the friends of the MED community, and an advocate of the value and importance of manufacturing.

Attached is a brief summary of the sponsorship opportunities for the MED centennial celebrations that include publications in magazine and journals of international circulation, participation in conferences of high international repute such as Manufacturing Science and Engineering Conference (MSEC) and International Mechanical Engineering Congress & Exposition (IMECE), and engagement in centennial festivities.

Thank you for your consideration and support.

Sincerely,

Radu Pavel, Ph.D.
